Westminster, December 8.

HIS Majesty came this Day to the House of Peers, and being in his Royal Robes seated on the Throne, with the usual Solemnity, Sir William Saunderson, Gentleman Usher of the Black-Rod, was sent with a Message from His Majesty to the House of Commons, commanding their Attendance in the House of Peers; the Commons being come thither accordingly, His Majesty was pleased to make the following most gracious Speech to both Houses.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

SInce we last parted the Face of our Affairs abroad is become more favourable: The Peace in the South only wants the Form of a Congress; and that of the North is brought much nearer to a Conclusion. I shall, at a proper Time, order the several Treaties I have made to be laid before you, by which you will perceive the Success of our Endeavours to establish a Peace throughout Europe, and to secure and support the Protestant Religion. At the same time I can never sufficiently express my Concern for the unhappy Turn of Affairs, which has so much affected the publick Credit at home.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I do most earnestly recommend it to you, that you consider of the most effectual and speedy Methods to restore the national Credit, and fix it upon a lasting Foundation. You will, I doubt not, be assisted in so commendable and necessary a Work by every Man that loves his Country, and especially by the several great Societies of this Kingdom. I hope you will, on this Occasion, remember, that all your Prudence, your Temper, and Resolution, are necessary to find out and apply the proper Remedies to our Misfortunes; which will, if you succeed, serve to increase that Reputation you have so justly acquired; particularly if you shall be able, notwithstanding these Difficulties, to discharge a Part of the publick Debt.

I have ordered the several Estimates to be laid before you of the Expence of the ensuing Year; and must desire you to dispatch the Supplies necessary for them.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I am glad to observe to you, that our Trade does appear to have been more extended this Year than in the preceding one; we have the most flourishing Navy of any Nation whatsoever to protect it: And, I hope, you will turn your Thoughts to the best Methods for the Security and Enlarging of our Commerce. You may depend on my hearty Concurrence to all such Provisions as shall appear to you necessary for the Good of my People.

Malaga, Nov. 12. On the 9th Instant sailed hence for Ceuta about 30 Sateas and Tartans, having on board the 1st and 2d Batallions of the Regiment of Murcia, and the Regiment of Corsica, as also between 5 and 600 Recruits. This Day arrived here by Sea, the Baggage of the Regiment of Galicia consisting of two Batallions, which are on the March hither by Land from Alicant, and expected here about the 20th Instant. Several empty Sateas and Tartans are lately arrived here from Ceuta, which are loading back with Water, Barley and Straw; but the large Magazines laid up here of Provisions, are yet untouched.

All Persons are desired to take Notice, that the Cross-Road Letters from Bath, Bristol, Exeter, &c. which did usually lie two Days at Glouceſter in their Way to South-Wales, are now sent into all Parts of that Country, without any Loss of Time; the same Advantage is gained three times a Week at Kidderminster, for the Benefit of the Traders of Stourbridge and Birmingham; and as often at Chester for those of Lancashire. There is likewise such Regulations made in the Dispatch of the Bye-Post between Chester and York, that a Letter sent from North-Wales, Cheshire, or Lancashire, into Yorkshire, or any other of the Northern Countries, may now be answered four Days sooner than it ever was before; and to prevent all further Impositions upon the Country, it is thought necessary to give this publick Notice, that the Postage of all Bye-Way, or Cross-Road Letters, is no more than three Pence to any Place under fourscore Miles, and four Pence to any Place above fourscore Miles for a single Letter, and so in Proportion for others passing to and from any Place within His Majesty's Dominions of England and Wales; and further, that all Bye-Way and Cross-Road Letters are to be paid for at the Places where they are delivered, Ship-Letters excepted, and not where they are put in, unless the Parties who put them in desire it. All manner of Persons that have been any ways concerned in the fraudulent collecting, carrying or delivering of Letters, contrary to the Act of Parliament, are, for their own Sakes, desired to put an immediate Stop to these illegal Practices, or to expect the Consequences of a vigorous Prosecution.
